Experts on Sino-Soviet Relations Meet at USC

Some of the world's foremost authorities on Soviet Russia and Red China will convene at the University of Southern California Nov. 17 and 18 for an "academic summit conference" on Sino-Soviet relations.

Invited to the conference by the USC Institute on Communist Strategy and Propaganda, the participants will meet behind closed doors to discuss the present trends in Sino-Soviet developments. They will, however, issue a white paper at the closing of the conference and individual members will be available for comment.

Coming from as far as Tokyo and Western Europe especially for the meeting, the participants include top flight academicians and high-level representatives of the United States State Department, the British Foreign Office, and the Japanese Foreign Ministry. Representatives of other countries also will be present.

The summit meeting is the second which the USC Institute has called. The 1959 conference was hailed as "very meaningful for all participants" by Dr. Roger Swearington, USC professor of international relations and director of the research at the Institute on Communist Strategy and Propaganda, host for this conference.

The conference will follow the close of a week-long meeting of world Communist leaders called by Khrushchev which is believed to be concerned about the "problem of Red China."

The conference will be directed toward answering such questions as: What is the cause of the present Sino-Soviet rift? How serious is it? What are the implications of the rift? How does it affect America policy in such countries as Viet Nam, India, Korea, and Japan?

Among the persons who will be in Los Angeles for the meeting are Heishiro Ogawa, chief of the Research and Analysis Division of the Japanese Foreign Ministry; Klaus Mennert, West German authority on Sino-Soviet relations and director of the Institute for the Study of Eastern Europe; and Allen S. Whiting, a staff member of the State Department and a specialist on Sino-Soviet relations.

Others include Heath Mason, British Foreign Office specialist; Jean Pennar and Eugeny P. Shilaeff, from the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich, Germany; Professor Hugh Seton-Watson of the University of London; and Robert Blum, former president of the Asia Foundation and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations in New York.

USC staff members in addition to Swearington include Dr. Ross Berkes, director of the School of International Relations; Dr. Peter Berton, associate professor of international relations; Dr. Alan Brown, assistant professor of economics; Dr. Theodore Chen, head of the Soviet-Asian Studies Center; Charles Malamuth, senior research associate at the host institute; and Gen. Young Hoon Kang, a former commandant of South Korea's Military Academy and Institute research associate.

A NUMBER OF professors from American and foreign universities also will participate.

General sessions of the conference will be held in Bovard Hall on the USC campus, and closing sessions will be at the Bel Air Sands Hotel. A reception and buffet supper is planned and a banquet Sunday will honor the participants.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.
